Abstract

Islamic Education Management is a process of planning, organising, directing, and supervising in educational institutions based on Islamic values and teachings. The aim is to create an effective and efficient learning environment, as well as forming students who are not only superior in science and skills, but also have character and morals in accordance with Islamic teachings. This management covers various aspects of education, including curriculum, teaching methods, human resource development, infrastructure, and community relations, all of which are integrated with Islamic principles to achieve holistic and spiritually valuable educational goals. The research method used is a literature study. The results show that Islamic education management has an influence on student character development, which can be seen in four main aspects: (1) the integration of Islamic values in the curriculum and learning, (2) the development of teacher and staff competencies oriented towards Islamic character, (3) the management of facilities and infrastructure that support character building, and (4) the creation of an Islamic school environment. This study concludes that the implementation of effective Islamic education management can substantially improve the character building of students who are noble and ready to face global challenges while adhering to Islamic values.

Keywords: Islamic Education Management, Character Development, students.

INTRODUCTION

Education is one of the crucial aspects in character building and individual potential development. In the context of Islamic education, the main goal is not only the transfer of knowledge, but also the formation of noble morals and character in accordance with Islamic values.

Islamic character has a fundamental role in shaping individuals who are noble and contribute positively to society. In Islamic teachings, the formation of good character or akhlaqul karimah is one of the main goals of a Muslim's life (Tubagus et al., 2023); (Aslan & Shiong, 2023); (Nurdiana et al., 2023). Islamic character not only includes the vertical relationship between humans and Allah SWT (habluminallah), but also emphasises the horizontal relationship between fellow humans (habluminannas) and with the surrounding nature. By having a strong Islamic character, a person will be able
